University of Nicosia (Cyprus)
www.unic.ac.cy

The University of Nicosia (UNic) a member of the EUA and the local European Office of Cyprus, is the largest private university in Cyprus with over 5000 students. It is an independent, co-educational, equal opportunity institution of higher education, which offers a wide range of programs to students from around the world. The University offers studies in business, science, education and the liberal arts. International in philosophy, UNic hosts students from all over the world, in a multicultural learning environment, promoting friendship, cooperation and understanding. The University pursues excellence in education through research and high teaching standards, in a continually improving academic environment. Over the years it has been adopting a dynamic and proactive strategy on funded research and reaches out to all its stakeholders working with them in developing ideas for academic and applied research to better the Cyprus community, country and region.